High Point College was founded in 1924. Since its creation it has continued to grow. On October 9th, 1991 the High Point College Board Of Trustees voted to change the name.

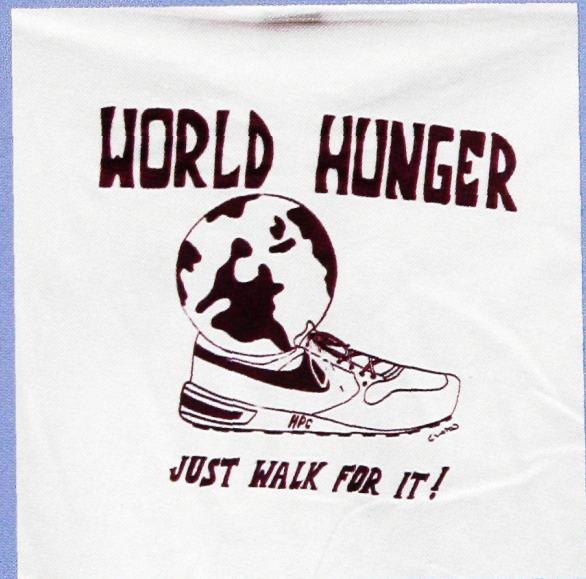

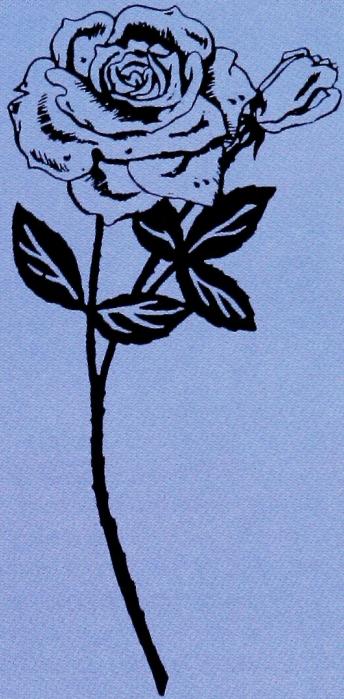

As we turn the page in High Point College history we enter a new era. The name was officially changed to High Point University.

As we enter the new era we must look back to those who made it possible. With this in mind the 1992 Zenith is dedicated to all High Point College graduates from 1924 to 1991. Without them, we would not be here. They all have a Touch of Class.

TOUCH OF CLASS

A Touch Of Class, the little part of everyone that makes us memorable. It might be holding a door open for someone, or offering assistance to a stranded motorist. The time spent at High Point University is a time that will always be remembered. It is those friends that remain with us forever, the memories of parties, Alex's House at 2 a.m. Saturday morning, and the late hours of studying. High Point University helps everyone find his/her own little "Touch Of Class".

President's Statement

Statement for the Zenith

October 17, 1991

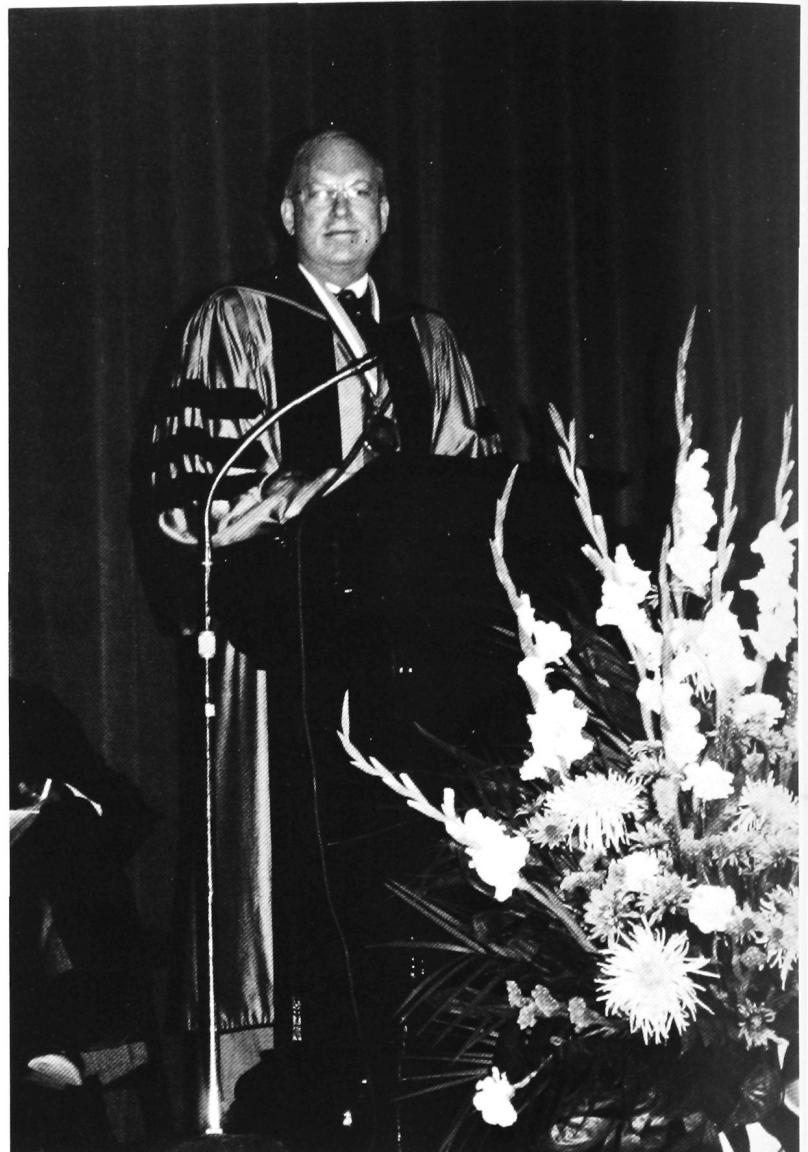

I have said many times that education is a marvelous enterprise. Education exposes us to various ways of thinking. We learn to discern between what is important and what is not important. We learn to accept new ideas only after subjecting them to proper analysis. We learn to perceive relationships, good and bad, and to recognize the importance of newly acquired knowledge. There are numerous purposes given for seeking an education. No one list is going to be complete. Obviously, the list must include greater self-awareness and continued growth, mentally and spiritually.

My advice to you is simple: Work hard, listen to the needs of others, suspect all abstractions, love honor, beauty and truth, and put your faith in God.

Best wishes,

Dean Evans

Originally from Delaware, Dean Evans came to High Point College to continue his education and he is still here. He graduated in 1975, and has seen the University as both a student and faculty member. This is his sixth year as Dean of Students and his eleventh year as a staff member. He started out as Director of Alumni Affairs. Dean Evans would like everyone to get involved in the University. He believes that "High Point is your University."

Dean Davis

The future is bright for High Point University, preparations have begun to become a university. We are committed to providing the best possible context for student life and learning. I envision a student center that will house career and personal advising. An even more beautiful campus with the rerouting of Montlieu Ave. A completed Millis center and a renovated Fine Arts Center with more classrooms and faculty offices. We are well on the way to creating a better school with a Touch Of Class.

Building A University

High Point University is on its way to becoming a University. Renovations on Roberts Hall finished in January, and the construction on the Millis Center is well underway. The completion of Roberts Hall increased the class space as well as the faculty offices. When the Millis Center is done it will house a pool, weight room, training facilities, as well as classrooms and new locker rooms. With the new name we are glad to see a new face for the University.

Welcome to School

On August 17th, 1991 another freshman class arrived on campus. High Point University rolled out the red carpet. The S.O.S. (Student Orientation Staff) was ready to carry in all the crates, trunks and boxes. They spent the day setting up in our new homes, for the year. They were seen scurrying around campus with their "yellow envelopes", running to meet with their orientation groups, their advisors and say goodbye to their parents. It was the start of a new time of their life.

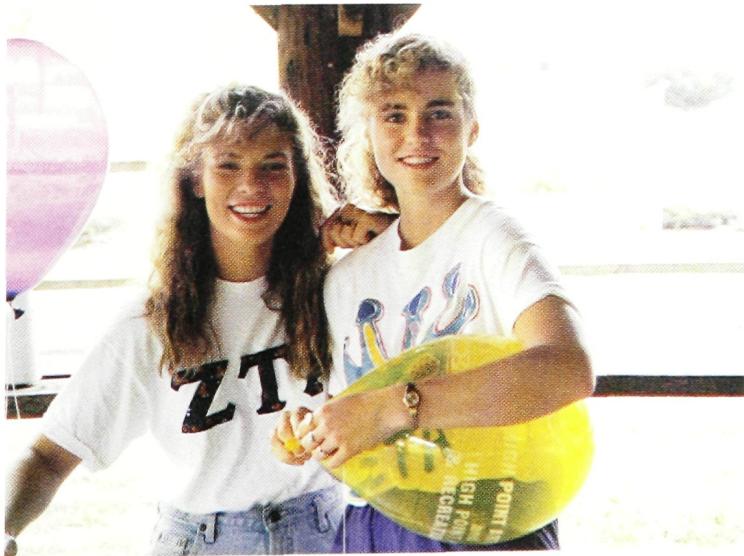

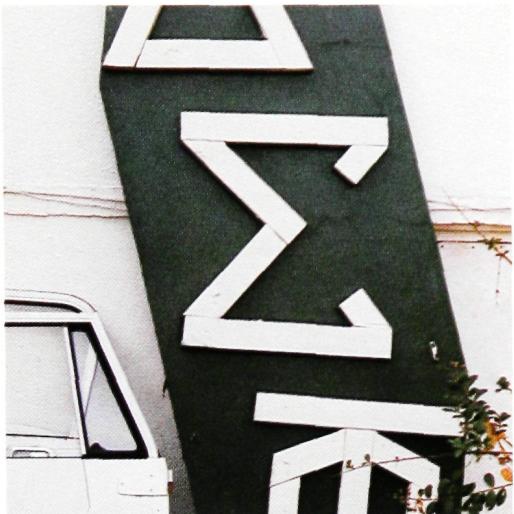

We Care About The Community

High Point University students are not just in town to go to school. They can be seen around the community putting their skills to work. The two big times for the college are Day in The Park in the Fall and the Crop Walk for hunger. Both show High Point University putting their best foot forward and how much they care for the surrounding community.

Crop Walk

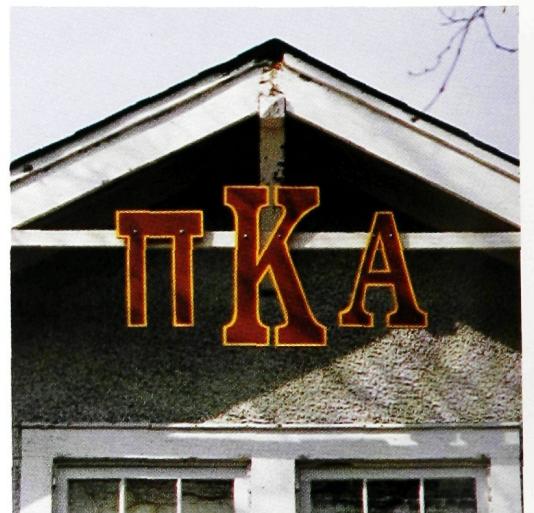

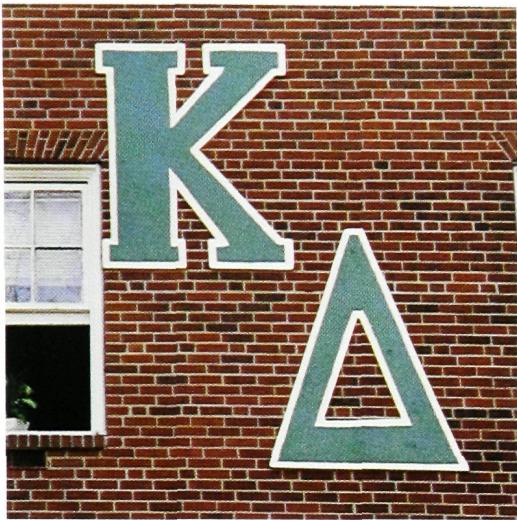

What Is Rush ...

Rush - A set period of time for the Greek System to present itself to those who are interested in joining.

Men's Rush involves 2 activities determined by I.F.C. They are Open House and Drags. Open House starts Rush and Drags ends it. The time in between is full of activities determined by the Fraternities. Activities include non-alcoholic mixers and other activities to show Rushees what fraternity life is like.

Life in the Greek System is fulfilling as well as for life. Friends made here are friends for life.

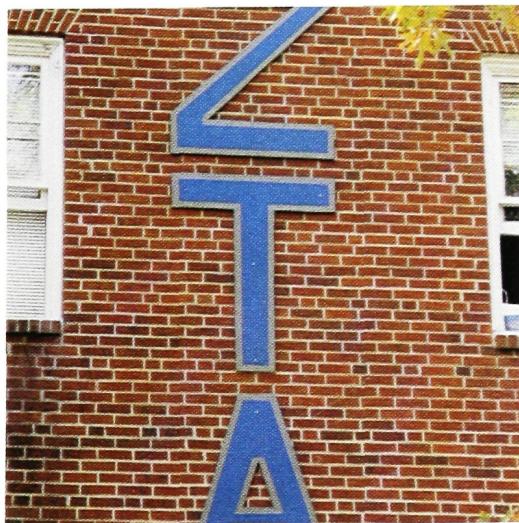

And Why Is It Important?

Women's rush is a more structured week. All four Sororities work together, and all the Women are required to visit all the Sororities. The Rushees are put into groups that visit the Sorority Lounges on the first night. There the Sororities use IceBreakers to show the Rushees what the sorority is about. After that the individual sororities have preference parties and invite the Rushees they are interested in.

Greek Brothers and Sisters are friends who you can count on and will always be there.

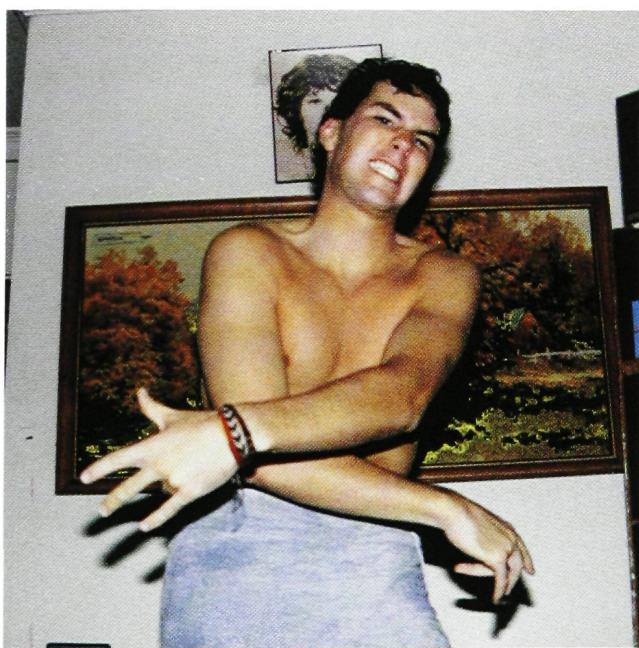

What Goes on . . .

A University is more than just books, professors, and classes. It is said that over 50 percent of learning goes on outside the classroom. When you first arrive as a Freshman, school can be frightening. However, making friends on campus is rather easy. Whether you need help with homework or you go toss a frisbee on the intramural field, you can always find someone who would like to go with you.

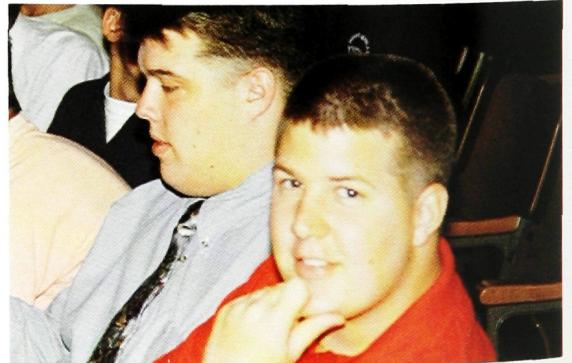

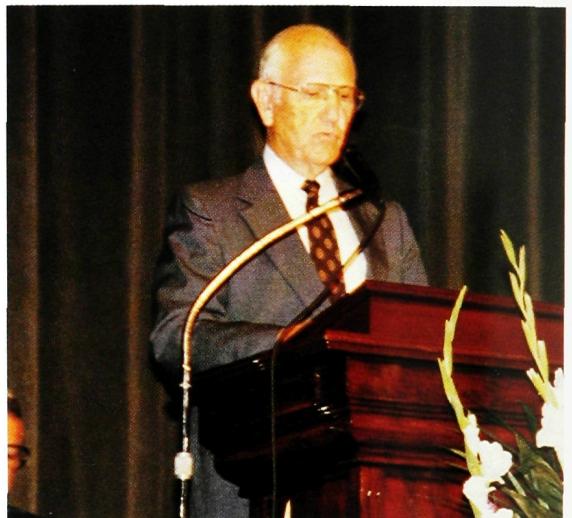

Outside The Classroom?

Opening Convocation

With classes already underway, the official school year started with Opening Convocation. With no knowledge of the future name change, President Martinson, S.G.A. President Amy Marshall, and Dean Of the School Vance Davis all wished the best to the new students as well as the returning students. With the name change complete the next step according to President Martinson is the instituting of a Honor Code for the overall good of the institution.

SPORTS

A T  UCH of CLASS

BASEBALL

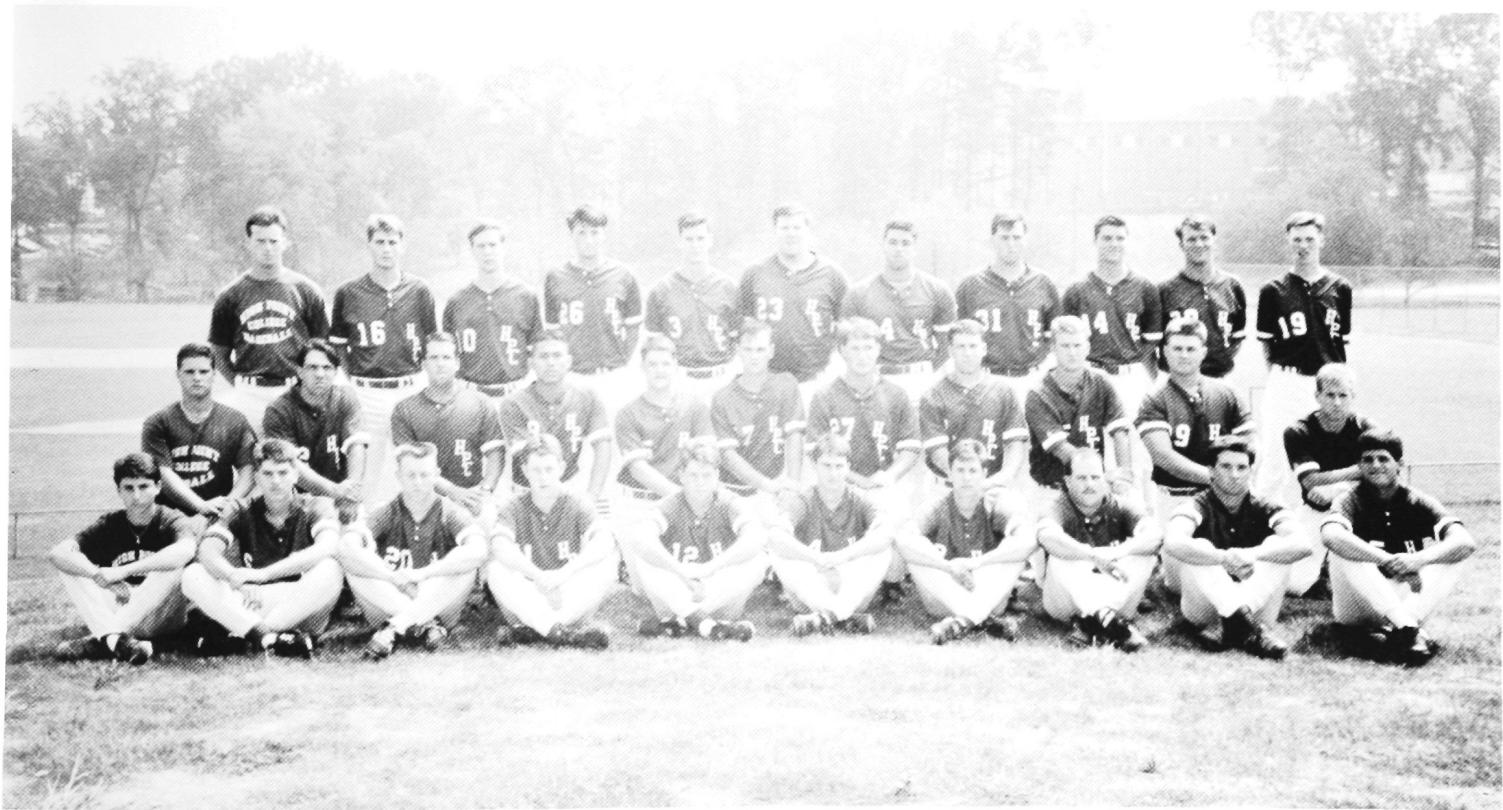

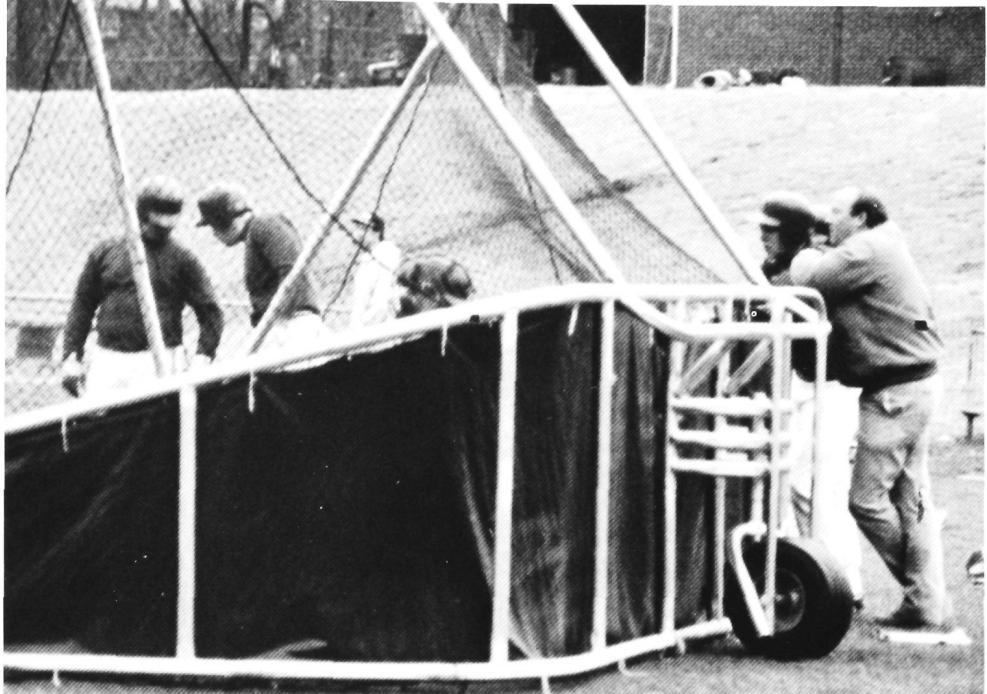

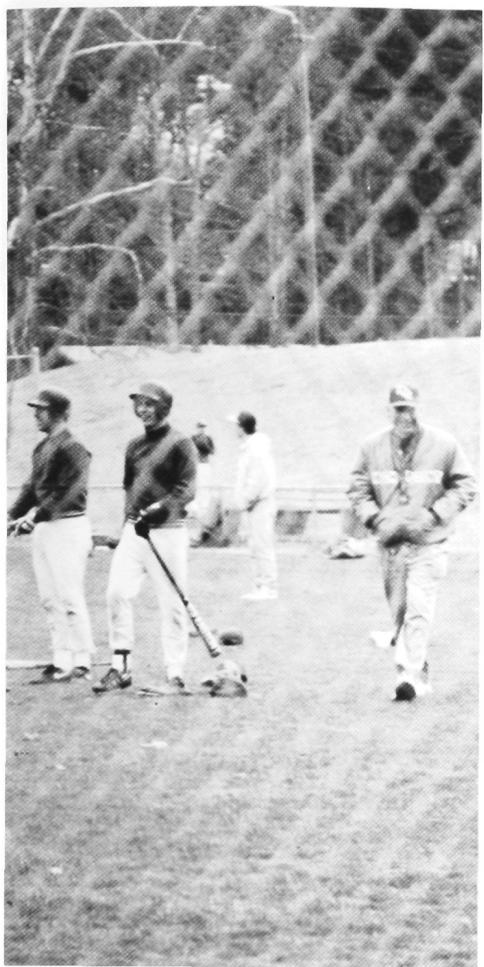

The Panthers are looking to rebound from last years 8-10 conference mark. A task not made any easier when Chris Chatterton was drafted by the Baltimore Orioles.

The Pitching staff will be headed by Chris McCollum and Joe Hobbs. The infield will be led by first baseman Kurt Gurley. Other players in the infield include Ritchie Greensfield, Chad Frye, and Bucky Nelson. The outfield sees Chad Duggins, Shane Simmons, and McCollum when he is not pitching. The catching will be handled by Darren White, or Ed Pattick.

Coach Speight comments, "We need to win some early games, gain some confidence, and get some experience to have a good year."

TRACK

The Panthers Track Team is shooting for its fourth title in five years this season. Seven All-District athletes return this year as well as an excellent recruiting class of incoming freshmen. Last year the team sent three members to the National Meet and finished 25th out of 131 competing teams.

Top returning team members include Brian Payne, an All-American and National Champ in the 400 meter hurdles; Brian Corrigan, who placed fifth in the triple jump. Top freshman Donovan Powell, a Jamaican National Sprint Champ, should have a shot at a national title this season.

Coach Bob Davidson says, "We have the strongest and deepest teams we have had in years. If everyone performs up to their potential, we could have a great year."

MEN'S TENNIS

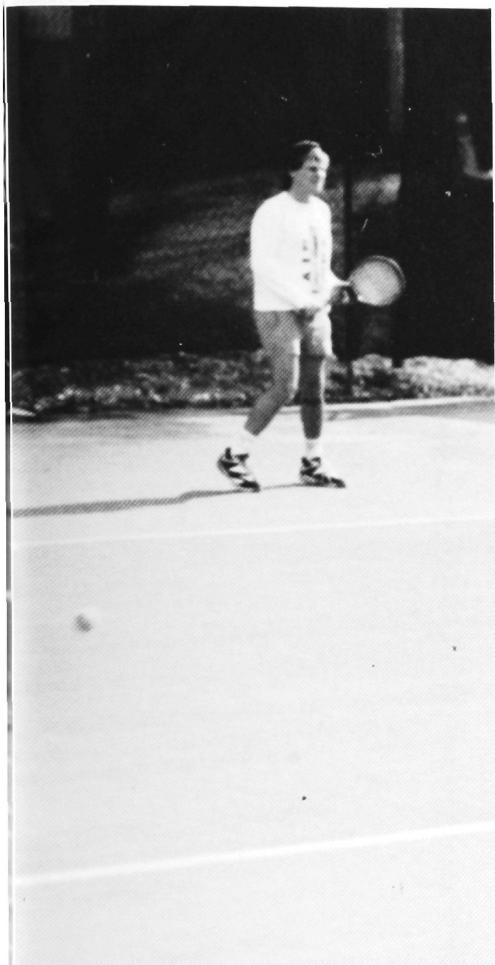

With the seven top players returning from a squad that finished second in the conference and third in the district last year, there are high hopes for this year.

Senior Adam Thompson leads the charge. He was 23-8 last year, and played No. 1. Vesa Kemppainen was 28-5 last year and returns to the No. 2 position. Kevin Hudson returns to the No. 4 position. Two freshmen who should make an impact are Donald Jersey and Eric Jacksonson.

Coach Ray Alley, who enters his fourth year, says, "This is the best depth we have had in years with strength at the top to compete with the top teams. Barring injuries, we look forward to a good season."

The Lady Panthers are looking to regain the dominance they had in the 1980's. They won five conference titles and went to the national tournament 8 times.

This year's squad is led by Connie Bates and Paivi Tapaninen. Stephanie Batten and Kim Bryant are also returning. Other key players are transfer students Jennifer Terp, Sandy Bryant, Stephanie Anderson, and April Goeghegan.

Second year coach Leigh Sink comments, "I expect Connie and Paivi to be the leaders. We have a young team and we will need the leadership of the upperclassmen."

After last year's 11-7-1 record and losing 4 key starters, Panthers were not sure how the season would turn out. The only returning seniors were Adam Duff and Chris Davis. Juniors included Marcus Cross, Darren Huber, Miguel Rivera, and Mike Hatfield.

Eleven freshmen make up one of Coach Woody Gibson's best recruiting classes. Coach Gibson also says, "We have a lot of talent this year. We have the ability to score a lot of goals and we will be better in midfield than last year."

The Lady Panthers field an experienced team this season with returning players Connie Bates and Molly Haggerty. Other returning players include Becky Fox, Sara Mock, Colleen Marx, Lauren Conner, and Angie Yerkes. The team also had a good recruiting year and hopes that the incoming freshmen will make an impact as well.

Coach Leslie Clark says, "With our young players we will need some time together as team. We will probably lose some of the early games, but I think that we will come on strong from the mid-season to the end."

MEN'S BASKETBALL

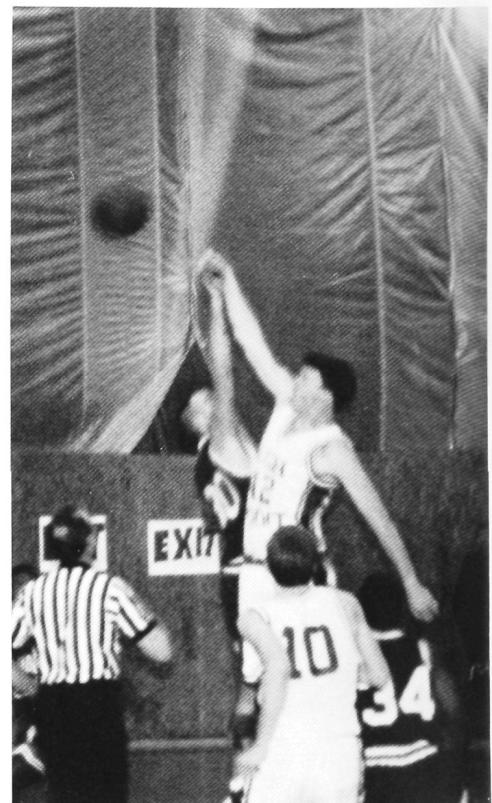

After 2 seventh place finishes, the Panthers look to this season as the turning point. Six letterman are returning, including 5 seniors.

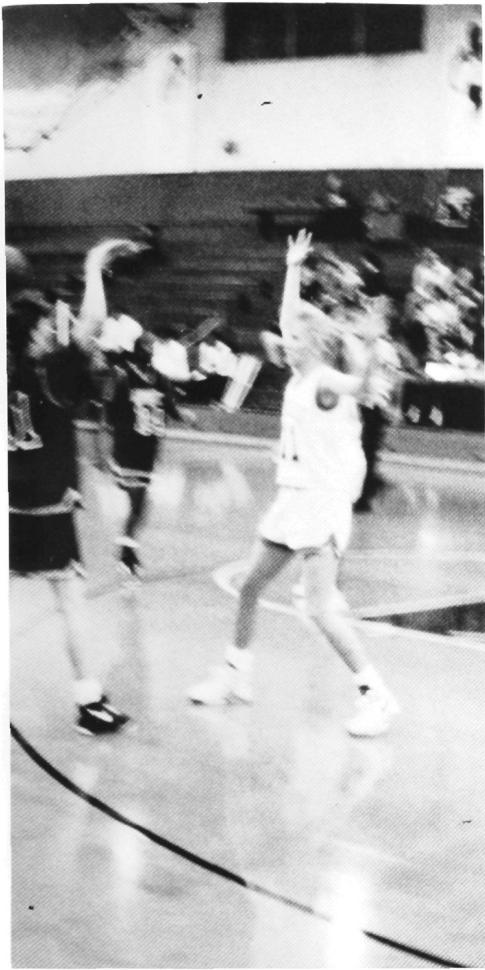

The front-court needs to make it happen this year. Senior center, Jay Witmer, and forwards Terrance Knuckles and Patrick Medley will lead, with junior Darryl Armstrong coming off the bench for support.

As Coach Jerry Steele enters his 27th year, he comments, "Our forwards and centers really hold the key this year. Jay was all-conference and he needs to play at that level again, while Doug (Oakford) needs to be consistent."

Coach Steele is also hoping to coach the Panthers to their 1000th win this season. Since 1927, the Panthers have been 986-644, 14 more wins and the school will move into 9th place in history.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Last year's Lady Panthers forged their best record in a decade. They finished with a 15-14 record, and another third place finish in the conference. However, they are returning 8 letter-winners with 4 starters. This year's season looks good.

Two key losses from last year's squad were center Sharon Hill and Maxine Monroe. Returning is senior Ingrid Hendrix who, working with Arlene King and Charlotte Totulis, should build strength on the inside.

Fourth year coach, Joe Ellenburg says, "There is a general feeling among our returning players that we will contend for the conference championship. After two third place finishes, I am ready for that to happen."

The returning players form a solid group who will battle for the conference title once again this year. Arlene King, Renita Eshleman, and Shelly Whitaker will be the leaders of this year's team.

Coach Joe Ellenburg says, "We aren't as strong with overall talent as we were last year, but with the people that we have on the team, if we can play up to our potential every match, we should do quite well."

GOLF

Returning the nucleus of a team that won the District 26 Tournament and finished 16th in the National Tournament makes 1992 look like their year.

Two All-Conference players return as well as three other players to make the top five players very strong. Steve Harrop and H.E. Barnes were All-Conference while senior Robbie Wooten and Chad Hendrick return as well. Two highly recruited freshmen, Dan Tapp and Allen McGee are expected to break into the top five by Spring.

Eighteenth year coach, Woody Gibson comments, "This is our deepest team in years. We have 8 or 9 people who could contribute this year. It is just a matter of who is playing best at any particular time."

After an outstanding recruiting effort, High Point will have a lot of depth this year and challenge for the conference and district titles. John High, last year's Runner of the Year, is returning for his senior season. Also back are Darren Jones and Terry Keresey. Freshmen should help this year, and leading the way are two North Carolina products, Sean Carter and Bobby Watts.

The women's team is going through a year short on numbers but long on talent. Top runners returning include Delia Stanley, who set the school record as a freshman and hopes to improve with time. Two dependable runners are senior Jamie Raymond and sophomore Cindy Romero. The only true recruit is Mary Routh, who brings outstanding ability and work habits to the team and should be one of the leading runners in the district.

Graduation 1991

By Angela Dailey, Class of '91

Once again, Commencement exercises were moved from the front lawn to inside the Alumni Gym. The 403 seniors were addressed by W. Roger Soles, Chairman of the College Board of Trustees and President of the Jefferson Pilot Corporation. Mr. Soles spoke about continuing to grow mentally and morally because learning does not stop with a college degree.

During the ceremony, Michael Sparrow and Charles Hanks were commissioned into the Air Force by Lt. Kurt Guyer. Also, Dr. Fred Yeats received the Sloan Teaching Service Award for his dedication to the Biology Department, as well as to the college.

This graduation was enhanced further by having five United Methodist Ministers, who were fathers of five students from the Class of '91, assist in the Baccalaureate and Commencement ceremonies. Seventy-five seniors ended their college careers with honors, and once the tassel moved from right to left, High Point College graduated its largest class to date.

Phi Mu

Gamma Zeta

Tradition, pride and excellence! As the Gamma Zeta chapter, the first fraternity for women chartered on High Point's campus, prepares to embark on its 40th year of service, the sisters reflect on the many memories and the rich history of this Phi Mu chapter. In the past year, Phi Mu has grown considerably, and is now stronger than ever. Phi Mu letters can be seen all over campus, from SGA to the Dance team.

Phi Mu members took great pride in being able to help their adopted national philanthropies — Project Hope and The Children's Miracle Network. They also found time for their Sister's Dance, the Senior Picnic, and Phi Mu friendship. Although they all are unique individuals, they share a common bond as sisters of Phi Mu!

Formerly, this group was known as the High Point College Greens. But the College changed to University, so the Greens changed to STEP. Last year, the Greens started the first recycling program on the campus. This year's plans included a thorough gathering of information on educating the campus community of environmental issues and concerns of a local nature.

STEP members at High Point would like all of the students of High Point University to remember . . . "We did not inherit the Earth from our parents. We have only borrowed it from our children."

The Writing Fellows program, in its third year, has made several positive impressions on the writing curriculum of the University. Effective writing is a necessity in our society, and Writing Fellows is a tutoring program that offers a collaborative effort in learning how to write. This year's fellows hope the much needed program will continue to grow in order to help students at High Point.

Odyssey Club

The Odyssey Club is an extension of the Honors program at High Point University. Its purpose is to expand the horizons of the student beyond the classroom. This year the club will start a Trivial Pursuit night as a sidekick to the College Bowl contest. The club is also forming a permanent varsity College Bowl team to compete against other schools.

Alpha Psi Omega

Alpha Psi Omega is a national theatre honorary fraternity. Students earn membership based on the quality of their work done as actors, directors, stage managers, designers, crew members, and technicians for the productions put on by the Tower Players.

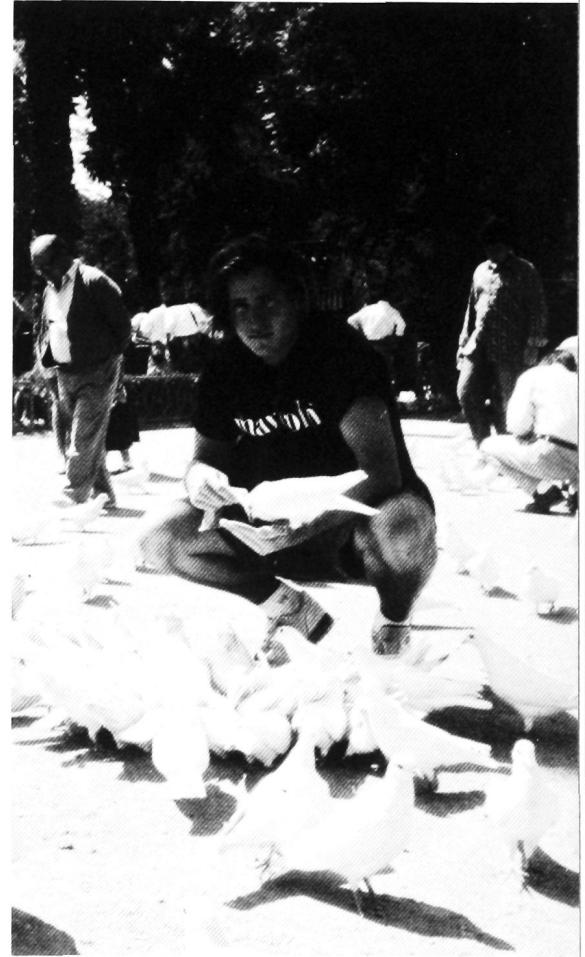

International Studies

It's one of the most fulfilling experiences that a student can have—to study abroad encountering different civilizations and cultures. Some fellow High Point students have seized that opportunity and traveled to Europe with a mixture of academic ambitions and cultural curiosity. High Point University offers programs in England, France, and Spain which can be taken either directly through the University, or in conjunction with other college and universities.

In order to be accepted for these cultural programs students must pass an application process and a review by the International Studies Committee, which takes into consideration the student's GPA, academic preparation, and ability to adapt and function in different cultures.

Two High Point University students, Kirsten Martinson and Terry Kersey, spent the entire 1990-91 academic year in England. Other students have benefitted as well, Desmond Dutcher studied at the Universite de Paul Valery in Montpellier, France, Serene Quebin enjoyed the Spring semester at the Institut Catholique in Paris, while Paivi Tapaninen, Barbara Blake, Angela Presod, John Beale, Dora Johnson and Patrick Schramm studied in Seville, Spain.

Presidential Scholars

Presidential Scholars are chosen every year from those high school seniors who are interested in attending High Point University. They are chosen on the academic standing, potential to maintain high academic standards, and personality. Potential scholars are chosen by the Admissions office staff and must compete in a two part selection process. Of the scholars chosen, the top two are awarded $6000.00 scholarships and the remaining 23 are awarded $3000.00 scholarships. A GPA of 3.0 or higher must be maintained each year for the student to renew the scholarship. Being a Presidential Scholar is a rewarding experience. Not only is there an incentive to make good grades, but also there is the opportunity to meet and groom prospective students for future attendance at the University.

"History of Continuing Education Program"

In 1978, sixty-three working adults entered the High Point College Continuing Education Program. In 1990, over 1200 Evening Degree students attended classes at the High Point and Winston-Salem (Madison Park) Campuses, with an attendance of between 800 and 941 each session. At the 1990 graduation, forty-four percent of the High Point College graduates were Evening Degree students.

This dynamic program's modest beginnings took a unique course in 1979 and began serving employees of the R.J. Reynolds Company on-site in Winston-Salem. Other area companies recognized the benefits of the program; and, in 1980, the Piedmont Area Evening Degree Association was formed. Classes met at the Thomas H. Davis Center of Piedmont Airlines and the R.J. Reynolds World Headquarters. In 1987, students from both of the Winston-Salem divisions began attending classes in a building erected by High Point College at Madison Park. In the Fall of 1988, classes in Winston-Salem were opened to the entire community; and, in January, 1990, the second Madison Park classroom building was added.

Evening Degree students, ranging in age from twenty-one to over sixty, travel to High Point and Winston-Salem from Burlington and Franklinville . . . from Ararat, Virginia and Pilot Mountain . . . from Yadkinville, Mocksville and Seagrove — from fifty-one towns and cities, — successfully realizing long-standing educational dreams and goals which often culminate in Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees.

Evening Degree students perform balancing acts that are second only to Barnum and Bailey's. There is little time for sleep in such hectic lives, but we dream. Whether it is career advancement or attainment, starting out or starting over — we are all pursuing our dreams.

Dr. Earl Crow

To be a CEP student means devotion. Devotion to learning, to exceeding, to giving the most that you can and then reaching and finding more that you did not even know you had. It means sacrifice — not only on your part but on your family's part as well. It means long days and even longer nights. But it also means success. Success in subjects that terrify you, success when the light goes on and you finally grasp the knowledge the professor is offering. CEP students know the joy of a job well-done, to have succeeded under trying conditions and to have exceeded their own expectations.
